Esquimaux Baby at Chicago

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—The inhabitants of the Esquimaux village at the World's Fair are trying in a half civilized way to paint things red to day. The cause of it was a daughter born to Mrs. Manak, whose husband votes up near the north pole when he is at home.
The little Esquimaux girl was christened Columbia Susan, in honor of the fact that she was born upon the World's Fair grounds.
Miss Columbia gives every promise of being a permanent exhibit.

It might be excusable to refer to a fighting parson or pugilist.—

New Colt's Revolver, to be Sup- plied Cavalry—Notes.

The ordnance department contemplates to issue within a short time to the cavalry troops a new Colt's revolver, to replace the one that has been used for the last twenty years. The calibre of the new revolver will be 38,000 of an inch, a slight reduction from the old 45 calibre. The revolver is self cocking, but it can also be used as a single action pistol for accurate target practice.

The empty shells can all be simultaneously ejected as in the Smith & Wesson, but by a different system. The revolver is a very handsome and convenient weapon and regarded as a decided advance upon the old model. The principal advantage of the new pistols are that it is self-cocking ejects the empty shells rapidly and certainly and that owing to the less weights of the cartridges more can be carried without increasing the load of the soldier or the horse. The first lot of these revolvers will be ready for issue by January 1 and probably enough will be completed during the ensuing year to arm all the cavalry regiments in the service.

Confederate Record.

The Clark family was once terribly "embarrassed by a Confederate record." The Austin Statesman prints the following story, told by Dr. Smith, a Presbyterian divine.

He said that during the seven days battle around Richmond "we improvised a hospital, but we had more wounded than we had tents to put them in and so they were scattered around under the trees.

I was walking around looking for the members of my regiment and I heard my name called by a wounded man whom I found to be a schoolmate. The man said, "Mr.
Smith, I want you to stay with me," and the doctor said, "I will stay with you as long as there is breath in your body," and knelt beside the man and began to wipe the blood and dust from his face.
He had but a few hours to live and there were nine bullet holes in his body. In a few moments there came up a brother of the dying man with one arm shot off. A short time after that there came another brother with an arm in a sling and badly wounded, that made No. 3.
Directly word came from the regiment that the only remaining brother had been shot dead on the battlefield. Here was the family; one dead, one dying and two badly wounded. That is the record of the Clark family and No. 3 was George Clark of Waco.

The Betting in New York.

New York, Nov. 3.—The betting this evening was wild at 11 o'clock. A large amount of Cleveland money made its appearance and the betting till half past 10 was fast and furious. It started in New York at the rate of a thousand to seven hundred and fifty in favor of the democratic ticket.

This went on till the odds were bet to a standstill at this rate on the general result. It commenced at even money and finally came down to a thousand to nine hundred on the democratic ticket.

Al Daggett, who bet so high on Harrison in 1888, told me that the democrats were playing the game now that republicans played in 1888, that is betting for effect. He said he made the first bet even on the general result in 1888 and hammered down the odds the democrats were offering for the effect of the thing. He remarked, "and it was not my money and I don't think it is the money of democratic individuals who are now offering." There is no doubt now that the Tammany men put in their cash.

Daggett said he expected to see odds to-morrow $1000 to $800 that Cleveland would win. Much of the odds are given, however, by bookmakers, such as a man named Mahoney. At least, $100,000 was bet tonight.

The scene is just like an excited race course. At 11 o'clock the republican had all they wanted and withdrew.

His Acknowledgement.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—The president to-day requested the publication of the following card:

"The expressions of sympathy with me and my family in our great sorrow from individuals, societies, church conventions, public meetings, political clubs and committees of all parties and indeed all our people have been so tender and full of respect and love for Mrs. Harrison that I reluctantly abandon the purpose of making personal acknowledgment of each. We are grateful, very grateful, for this great outpouring of good will and for your prayerful interces-sions. May God give to each of you in every trial that grace and strength which you have asked for us.

"BENJAMIN HARRISON."
